As part of the merger study process for the Clymer and Panama Central School Districts, a series of focus groups will be held in each community. Focus group meetings are open to the public and last for about an hour. Each one will begin with a brief presentation about the current status of the district and some facts about what a merger could bring in terms of state incentive aid. Following this, those present will be asked a series of questions to elicit their thoughts and opinions about the current status of the districts and about a possible merger.
